Warrenton Horse Show
Receives USEF Heritage Competition Status
From the USEF Communications Department

Lexington, KY – The Warrenton Horse Show, hosted by the Warrenton Horse Show Association, has been honored with the United States Equestrian Federation’s designation as a USEF Heritage Competition, the highest honor currently held by any Federation horse show.

The designation of a USEF Heritage Competition is reserved for competitions that have been in existence for a quarter-century or more, promoted and grown equestrian sport, and made contributions to the community outside the gates of the horse show by achieving, maintaining, and promoting the equestrian ideals of sportsmanship and competition.

Founded in 1899, the Warrenton Horse Show Association is the oldest continuously operating corporation in Virginia and represents the interests of horse show enthusiasts, competitors, horse breeders and the community of Warrenton, Virginia. The five-day show offers a variety of competition classes including ladies sidesaddle, hunters, jumpers, hunting pairs and more.

The Warrenton Horse Show benefits several organizations, including the Fauquier Health Foundation, the Fauquier Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Warrenton Volunteer Fire Department, Fauquier Free Clinic, and Northern Piedmont Community Foundation.

“The Warrenton Horse Show is one of the oldest equestrian exhibitions of its kind in the United States,” said USEF Chief Executive Officer John Long. “With its long tenure and many charitable contributions, both national and local, the show exemplifies everything the USEF looks for when designating a Heritage Competition.”
